Visual Identity / DESIGN FOR GOOD

I was initially drawn to design because I'm a creative problem solver and a natural helper. I love the unique challenge that each project presents, and the process of finding the right combination of custom type, vibrant color, bold imagery and a clean layout to strike that perfect balance for each client.

With over 15 years of experience, my favorite projects have always been those that help to elevate the most marginalized members of my various communities as a queer Black woman. I'm grateful that my profession and passions align in a way that allows me to help amplify their voices and the incredible work they do.
